CONTENTS DESCRIPTION	COMPETENCIES
The Final Degree Project (TFG), is an integrative and enhancer work of the knowledge acquired in the Philosophy Degree, which must be carried out and presented by all degree students, once they have fulfilled the established conditions, with the in order to get the title. The Final Degree Projects will consist of the proposal, realization and evaluation of an original work, in which an integration and acquisition of competences, contents and learning results of the degree in philosophy are shown. It does not consist of a research project per se (in the sense of a Master's Final Project or an article for a scientific journal), but, rather, a bibliographic search, review, analysis and synthesis, which includes the performance critical capacity in the approach and development of the subject worked. It must train students and show their ability to search, manage, organize and interpret relevant data, referring to the area of philosophy, to make judgments that include a reflection on relevant issues of a social, scientific, technological or ethical nature, and that facilitates the development of critical, logical and creative thinking and judgment. In general, the student will also choose one of the following two typologies: (a) Works of a theoretical-conceptual nature: In relation to a specific topic, the student must address the approach to the chosen topic, the bibliographic review of the state of the matter (without claiming to be exhaustive), the analysis of the main premises, developments of ideas and proposals, as well as a synthesis of them. (b) Works of an applied nature: Starting from the theoretical approach of the chosen topic and the appropriate conceptual premises, the student will analyze the practical implications of the topic in question, providing the data and indicators that show its relevance and its contribution to the current debate, also demonstrating critical sense and terminological rigor. The choice between one or another typology will depend on the interest that the student demonstrates, either for the theoretical deepening in the study of a specific problem, or for the more practical approach to any phenomenon or social situation that has a philosophical, political and economic dimension, and can be approached from an interdisciplinary perspective. The TFG is designed so that it can be completed by students in the number of hours corresponding to the 18 ECTS assigned to the subject.	CG:1,2,3,4,5,6,7,8,9,10,11, 12,13,14,15,16 CE:17,18,19,20,21,22, 23, 24,25,26,27,28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42
